

Ida Halim

Ida Halim is the newest member of the Junglewalla team. Hails from the mystical island of Langkawi, her passion for the outdoors eventually lead her to participate in a Nature Guide Course (Green Badge Course) conducted at end of 2008.

With no previous background in nature guiding this initial induction at the course ignite her interest and appreciation for all things wild. The birds and birdwatching has become one of her most favorite activity and Junglewalla is happy to have her on the team.

Qualified and trained in the field of Business Administration at a local university in mainland, she returned to the island paradise of Langkawi and immersed in all things "green". Her work includes the planning and development of socially responsible activities for our clients and companies.

Her special focus and aim is to build awareness among the people of Langkawi about their islands magnificent natural history and its fragile state of health. She does this through the many conservation projects and education events run by the Junglewalla Initiative.
